Dr David Evans, 27 June 2014, David Evans' Notch-Delay Solar Theory and Model Home. If the Sun mainly controls the temperature on Earth, a turning point is almost upon us. (In the second part of this series of blog posts we will demonstrate that carbon dioxide is responsible for less than 25% of the global warming of the last six decades, so presumably the Sun is mainly responsible.)

yes, there are many possibilities. But there seems to be pretty good observational evidence of a warming trend during the 1800s (natural, since we couldn't be at fault), whereas a recent natural cooling influence is more speculative.

The ENSO non-radiative forcing (e.g. warming of the surface layer during El Nino, with an energy-equivalent cooling of the deeper layer, due to a global-average reduction in the rate of ocean overturning) is directly proportional to the MEI index value, with no time lag.It is tuned to help maximize the match between modeled and observed ENSO warming and cooling episodes in surface temperatures.

A laser is a device that emits light through a process of optical amplification based on the stimulated emission of electromagnetic radiation.The term "laser" originated as an acronym for "Light Amplification by Stimulated Emission of Radiation". The first laser was built in 1960 by Theodore H. Maiman at Hughes Research Laboratories, based on theoretical work by Charles Hard Townes and Arthur ...

The Strata-sphere has found that surface temperature measurements fail to show twentieth century global warming. The raw CRU data released in Climategate shows that surface temperature readings measure the first half of the last century (1900-1960) as warm or warmer than it is today.
